other diplomatic agents at Vienna to their respective governments, and I know of one, whose residence for many years at that Court, and an intimate uninterrupted intercourse with most of the leading personages of the day, ought to render him an authority on such subjects, who thinks himself authorized to communicate his own favorable opinion to his government. Nevertheless, there are others, and those well versed in political affairs, who are far from being so sanguind, and who pensist in doubting, if not the good faith, at all events the possibility of Austria ever drawing her sword ogainst Russia.

events the possibility of Austria ever drawing her sword sgainst Russia.

At a very recent audience which Prince Gortschakoff had of the Emperor of Austria, he did his utmost to obtain from his Majesty the formal acceptance of an engagement from Russia that she would not attack the banubian Principalities so long as the Austrians continued to occupy them. The Prince at once wrote off to St. Peteraburg, to say that the Emperor had accepted the enragement, and subsequently stated so to M. de Buol. M. de Buol unhesitatingly and bluntly told the Prince that he did not credit the statument, and requested him to repeat it in the presence of the Emperor himself. The Prince did so, when the Emperor, in the most positive terms, contradicted the Prince—or himself. Who shall say: If the young Emperor spoke the truth, as I hope he did, it is rather surprising that any ambassador, and especially a Russian, should so misunderstand what we said to him.

Affairs in Italy—Tactics of Austria and the Revolutionists.

[From the London Times, August 7.]

Austria no longer threatens the Russian frontjer; her treeps are withdrawn from Golicia, and 20,000 or 300. 500 men, it is zold, released by the retrograde movement of our ally are to produce where the tree of the control of the Austrian government, the tendencies and the asyinations of the Marshal, and the movements on the part of the liberal party, which seem only awaiting the signal to break out. So long as Italy is governed by the civil tribunals, it is difficult for the military chief to assume absolute power; and the central of the liberal party, which seem only awaiting the signal to break out. So long as Italy is governed by the civil tribunals, it is difficult for the military chief to assume absolute power; and the central over generals in remote provinces, atill retains over them some semblance of authority. But so mon at minimal the control of the word and the substance of power is to him who wields it. The Field Marshalt swill known to be Eustina his feelings and tendencies, and he and his staff are said to be seen contantly decorated with orders received from the Court of St. Petersburg. Head at the head of a numerous and well disciplined army, with no prospect anywhere except that of tumediately enforcing his will at the point of the bayonet, the Austrian Marshal Radeal security of the control of t which Austria was bound to assist France and England in defending.

And yet we are accused by Mr. Gladstone and his friends, in tones of almost frantic bitterness, of having needlessly protracted the war by refusing our assent to a proposition at Vienna which Austria never promised us to support by a recourse to arms, and which she told us at the same time Russia was not likely to accept! The line of conduct which Austria is adopting in Italy is the best answer to such reproaches, for it were surely better to leave to Russia at once the power of naming to us the terms of captulation than to intrust the power of arbitration to a government feeble and vacillating whenever it finds itself in the right, and only strong and resolute when its cupidity is excited by the hope of fresh plunder, and its energies renovated by the congenial stimulus of being entirely in the wrong.

The Limited Liability bill was read a second time in the House of Lords.

In the Commons the bill for the creation of £7,000,000 sterling exchaquer bills was read a third time. On the order for the third reading of the Conschilated Fundbill, Lord John Eursell, pursuant to intimation he had given to advert to the state of Hally, proceeded to review the conduct of the war, and then adserted to the condition of the Iratian kingdoms. In Naples, he said, the best men were plaing in imprisonment. In Tuscany the old system of religious toleration had been exchanged for a system of persecution which is a disprace to the country. And, what aggravated the matter, was that these evils were mainly in consequence of one of the principal states of Hally—the Estates of the Churcheling in occupation of Austrian and French troops, causing the Pope must cease to be an Independent prince, and there would be a disturbance of the balance of power in Harpe. Was it not possible for the linglish government, in concert with France and Aastria, to device some system of government for the Houns States consonant with the Indexess of the people and with the clements of justice? He called the attention of the government, in concert with Erghand some system of government which would admit of the withdrawal of the French troops from House. By the arrival of the ships George Marshall and Cateau Wattell, in England, we have Australian dates from Sydney of May 13, and Melbourae May 16.

The advices from Sydney are very favorable. Trade had experienced a further improvement. Colonial produce was being shipped with spirit, and in imported goods trade was active at better prices. The government would probably revise the tartif in order to increase the revenue, so as to meet the Increased regarditure. More than the feature of the new tariff would be an advolvem duity on goods now free of duty, and an increase on the existing rates payable on others. Tobacce, wins and beer are three articles likely to be specially classed for duty.

From Melbourne the commercial accounts do not vary from those already pablished, and the papers are quite devoid of political news.

At Melbourne gold was stationary.

The Mining Partnership Bill, for introducing the cash book principle into Victoria, was read a second time in the Legislative Council on the 15th of May. The Melbourne and Geelong Railway Bill was in committee.

On the 10th of May a report wit favorally circulated, and bolieved, that a mass of gold weighing ten tons had been found at Tarrengower. On the light the ramor was discredited.

The escorts have brought from Mount Alexauder and Pendigo, 12-876 ounces; Ballarat, including Geelong, 5,434; the Cvens, 4,616; Maryborough, 2,417; Avoca, 637,608 ounces.

The stores at the principal diggings having been plentifully supplied during the long continuance of fine weather, there was, comparatively speaking, very little doing, but a healthy feeling prevailed.

Owing to the large arrivals of emigrants during the last week in April and the first two weeks in May, the labor market had been rather fully supplied. Farm servants and married couples are much in demand. The large number of men constantly going to the diggings, and the hand we have the receded.

At Paris to-day the French funds closed fully as good as yesterday. Consols for Septemper 6 closed at 50% to 5%. For money, the final quotation was 90% to 91% to 5%. For money, the final quotation was 90% to 91% to 5%, for the foreign slock market the movement is still mainly confined to Turkish, which continues to show a strong upward tendency, stimulated by the belief that the new loan of $5,000,000 will be brought forward next week, during which Turkish securities are expected to form the absorbing feature of the market. The closing quotation this afternoon was about % per cent lighter than that of yesterday.

The railway share market to-day was again flat and rather lower. The chief feature was a further fall of % per cent in Great Western stock, which is marked as low as 50%, but closed at a partial reaction. Proof of the fall of this stock, however, and in London and Northwestern, is attributable to a pressure of speculative sales, is % per cent lighter for this than for the next account. Lavarroot, August 10, 1855.

Very beavy rains have fallen since our last, and the crops are reported to be much laid throughout the country. Yesterday and to-day, however, are again fine with warm sunshine. The continued had weather has had no effect on our market for wheat and flour, any influence it might have had having been counteracted by the heavy decline at Mark line last Monday, and the general duliness in other markets. On Tuesday holders of wheat submitted to a reduction of 2d, per bushel, and a fair businesswas in consequence transacted in parcels ex-ship. Flour, of which we have still a liberal supply from Spain, also declined 6d, to 1s, per sack. Indian torn was in fair request, at 30s, to 39s, 6d, for mixed. For yellow, 49s, asked, but high mixed is preferred at 6d, below that rate.

also declined cd. to 1s, per sack. Indian Corn was in fair request, at 38s, to 3s, 6d, for mixed. For yellow, 49s, is asked, but high mixed is preferred at 6d, below that rate.

To-day's market was very duil and only snoderately attended. Wheat was again 2d, per bushel lower, making a decline of 4d, on the week with small sales. Flourprices rather favored the buyer, it being difficult to effect seles at over 57s, to 57s, 6d, per sack for the best Spanish, Indian Corn—the demand has fallen off but there is no disposition on the part of holdera to press sales. Quotations nominally 59s, to 39s, 4d, for mixed and yellow.

BEEF.—We have no change to note in prices. The demand is moderate, but dealers still buy only what they require immediately.

FORK.—Slightly lower prices have been accepted, and there is more activity in the trade.

BACOS.—A fair business has been done at full rates.

Lam has been done, at a decline of 6d, per cwit, the sales for the week being not above 70 tons.

TALLOW in good demand, at full prices.

ROSN.—The inquiry continues good, and sales amount to 6,000 barrels, at 4s, to 4s, 6d, for common.

BARK.—Nothing doing.

COTON.—The market this week opened quietly, and prices of the ordinary qualities of American declined $\frac{1}{2}$, and the favorable character of the advices from America. The last two days the tone of the narket was quite changed, occasioned by more favorable weather. There is less cotton offering, and the above decline has been fully recovered. Market closing firm. In Manchester a better feeling prevails, and more business doing.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

MONEY MARKET.

WEDNESDAY, Aug. 22-6 P. M. The stock market continues without animation The variations in quotations are merely nominal, and the transactions of a limited character. There is no speculation abroad, and prices are sustained entirely by the ability of holders. The fancies are with the greatest difficulty maintained, and some, notwithstanding the efforts of holders, are gradually settling down. Amidst the speculative excitement several weeks since, prices for some of the Western railroad stocks were run up rapidly to points im-measurably beyond their actual value, and purchasers at the top of the market have been anxiously looking for an advance on what they paid, but have so far looked in vain. It is so easy to manufacture that class of stocks out of the quantities of convertible bonds issued at reduced rates, that the demand has been supplied with new scrip, instead of absorbing the old. As soon as speculators had sufficiently inflated prices, they commenced feeding the market, and there is now affoat nearly double as much stock of certain Western railroad companies as at this time last year. There is a good deal more of the same kind left, which will be sold at eighty if it will not bring ninety, and so on down to points in the neighborhood of figures at which convertible bonds were issued.

At the second board there was quite an active movement in Eric, and it closed at an advance of a per cent. Reading, Central and other leading railroad stocks closed firm at prices current in the morning. The improvement in Erie is attributed entirely to the prospects of an arrangement of all the difficulties with the Central Company. It is a grand sale at current prices in the face of the most favorable settlement that can be made.

The steamship Pacific, at this portfrom Liverpool, brings seven days later intelligence from all parts of Europe. The commercial accounts are far from market was dull and depressed. There had been no change in prices since the departure of the previous steamer, and a quiet, inactive feeling prevailed. From the manufacturing districts the advices are not favorable. Prices for manufactured goods h receded, notwithstanding the adoption of short time in some localities. The weather had not been in favor of an early harvest, but the market for breadstoffs was inactive and without change in prices. Consols remain the same as previously quoted. The last returns of the Bank of England compared with those for the previous week, show an increase of £930,813, in the public deposits; of £94,806 in the rest; of £111,155 in the private securities, and of £679,663 in the notes unemployed. In the private deposits there is a decrease of £26,200; in the government securities of £435,438; in the notes in circulation of £255,555; and in the bullion in both departments of £153,65%.

The steamship Baltic, from this port for Liverpool to-day, carried out $665,275 in specie. This is just about the amount anticipated.

The Boston Traveller of the 20th inst. gives the following account of the progress of the Troy and Greenfield railroad:—

A large force is now at work at several points along the line of this, road, and during the last two months considerable progress has been made, chiefly between Greenfield and Shelburn Fal.s., at the Hoosa: Mountain, and between the mountain and the Vermont State line.

At North Adams, a tunnel about four hundred feet in length, is being exavated through a rock of the same character, as that composing the mountain through which the Hoosac tunnel is to be cut, and some very satisfactory data are thus entertained as to the probable length of time that will be required to complete that great work.

The rock is mica slate, is very easily worked and unusually favornole for blasting. The atrata are vertical, rendering the excavation by far easier than it otherwise would be, and at the same time obviating all necessity for arching.

While the character of the rock is such as to mal.e it easy of drilling and blasting, its position being sectical, the arch formed by the rock itself is as tirm as it is passible to imagine. As said by Prof. Hitchock, in his examination on this subject before a committee of the Legislature, "the tunnel will require no more arching than would an auger hole through a sound stick of timber."

In this lesser tunnel, a progress of from four to free than would an auger hole through a sound stick of timber."

In this lesser tunnel, a progress of from four to five feet per day is made at each end, and the work could be still more rapidly carried on if required.

It is estimated that by the use of hand labor alone the great tunnel can be completed in five years, and by the employment of machinery this time can be much reduced.

employment of mischinery this time can be much reduced.

A new machine of great power is now in course of construction at New York, to be used in boring the drift or headway. The old machine was an experiment, and although partially successful, and a great improvement upon hand labor, it was found too cumbrous to be easily managed. It was intended to cut out the entire cavity of the tunnel twenty four feet in diameter, while the new is to bore but eight feet in diameter, while the new is to bore but eight feet in diameter, the drift being once made, the work of bhasting is comparatively easy.

The operations at the Hoosac tunnel have been thus far confined to the removal of the approaches, and it will be several weeks before the tunnel proper can be reached. The Troy and Greenfield Railroad is forty two miles in length, and will, when completed, form, in connection with other roads now in operation or building, a new avenue for commerce between Boston and the West. With a material shortening of distance, very favorable grade, noderate curvature and a line extending through some of the most productive portions of the State, its importance compute over estimated. It is a matter of great interest to Boston and to the whole commonwealth.

The enfine cost of the road completed and ready for use, with cars, engine, depot buildings, &c., is estimated at less than four million of dollars. E. W. Serrell & Co., of New York, have contracted for the entire work.
